See Suzanne Sommerville's discussion of researching in PRDH on the Research Guides' Page on the French-Canadian Heritage Society of Michigan's website: http://www.habitantheritage.org/french-canadian\_resources/research\_guides. A subscription to PRDH-IGD can be purchased for as little as $27.45 Canadian for 150 hits or $49.45 for 500 hits. Each of the following certificate represents a hit.

Examples of the certificates available from PRDH-IGD:

Individual View: lists the individual's name, their status (if an immigrant), the names of his or her parents, and dates and location of the individual's birth/baptism, the date and location of their marriage(s), with the parents of the spouse. The certificate number should be used as a source citation; it appears in the upper right.

If the individual had an illegitimate child, that information would also be included.

Marriage: The marriage certificate lists the date and location of the marriage. The names of the spouses are listed followed by the names of the parents of the groom and bride. In the case of Marie Olivier, her mother's name does not appear in the register, therefore, it does not appear in the marriage certificate. The certificate then lists the names of the witnesses who are listed in the parish register. Additional witnesses may have signed the parish register who are not named in the register. The priest is the last person named on the certificate.

The certificate number should be used as a source citation; it appears in the upper right. If you are a subscriber to the Drouin Institute's "Quebec Records" at <https://www.genealogiequebec.com/en/about>, you can click on img. Drouin Inst. and you will be taken to the image of the marriage in the parish register. Many of the early parish registers for Québec, Montréal, and Trois-Rivières do not contain the signatures of anyone other than the priest.
