Most books published before 1922 are available online from Google Books, www-archive-org, or the Hathi Trust Digital Library at http-www-hathitrust-org/. I own all of the books listed below, as well as several other books written in the 19th century that discuss Native American culture during the early part of the 19th century.

Blair, Emma Helen, editor and translator, The Indian Tribes of the Upper Mississippi Valley and Region of the Great Lakes (Cleveland, Ohio: The Arthur H. Clark Company, 1912), Vols. 1 and 2, especially Nicolas Perrot, Memoir on the Manners, Customs, and Religion of the Savages of North America and Claude Charles Leroy Bacqueville de La Potherie/LaPotherie, History of the Savage Peoples who are allies of New France (Available as Google Books) Perrot’s memoir was written about 1680; he did not use dates for most of his memoirs, but Jules Tailhan, S.J., the editor of his memoir added them in brackets. Blair condensed some of Tailhan’s explanatory notes, but added extensive explanatory and historical material. La Potherie/LaPotherie’s book was published in 1716. Blair believed that a lost memoir by Perrot furnished the material for parts of the book. LaPotherie did not arrive in New France until 1698. He did not use any dates in his book; it is only through Blair’s footnotes or the mention of a French-Canadian official that one can approximate the date for information contained in his book.

Brandão, José António, Your Fyre Shall Burn No More (Lincoln, Nebraska: University of Nebraska Press, 1997).

Cooke, Sarah E. and Rachel B. Ramadhyani (compilers of the illustrations), Christian F. Feest and R. David Edmunds (authors of the essays), Indians and a Changing Frontier The Art of George Winter (Indianapolis: Indiana Historical Society in cooperation with The Tippecanoe County Historical Association, 1993). Most of the Native Americans appearing in this volume were from the Potawatomi and Miami Tribes or Nations. This is the only book that provides exclusive coverage to the 19th century.

Cuillerier, René and José António Brandão, editor and translator, and K. Janet Ritch, Nation Iroquoise (Lincoln, Nebraska: University of Nebraska Press, 2003). Brandão believes that Cuillerier wrote this book based upon his experience as a captive of the Iroquois.

Eastman, Mrs. Mary, Dahcotah; or, Life and legends of the Sioux around Fort Snelling (New York: J. Wiley, 1849).

Edmunds, R. David and Joseph L. Peyser, The Fox Wars – The Mesquakie Challenge to New France (Norman, Oklahoma: The University of Oklahoma Press, 1993). As the title indicates, the authors emphasize the Fox Wars, rather than their culture.

Havard, Gilles and Phyllis Aronoff and Howard Scott (translators) The Great Peace of Montreal of 1701 – French-Native Diplomacy in the Seventeenth Century (Montreal and Kingston: McGill-Queen’s University Press, 2001). In addition to discussing the 1701 peace negotiations, this volume provides the historical background leading to the treaty.

Harris, Adam Duncan, Catlin’s American Buffalo (Giles Publishing, 2013).

Nicolas, S.J., Louis, Codex Canadensis (http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/codex/index-e.html and http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/codex/026014-1100-e.html). This website allows the reader to view some of Louis Nicolas, S.J.’s, 17th century illustrations of Native Americans, plants, animals, and other elements of natural history.

Parmenter, Jon, The Edge of the Woods (East Lansing, Michigan; Michigan State University, 2010).

Strong, Lisa, Sentimental Journey, the Art of Alfred Jacob Miller (Fort Worth, Texas: Amon Carter Museum, 2008).

Thwaites, Ruben Gold, editor, The Jesuit Relations and Allied Documents (Cleveland: The Burrows Brothers. Available online at: http://puffin.creighton.edu/jesuit/relations/). Also available at the Hathi Trust: https://catalog.hathitrust.org/Record/000833013. Although many of the letters and relations contained in the JR emphasize missionary efforts, many volumes contain contemporary descriptions of Native American culture and beliefs.

Trigger, Bruce, Natives and Newcomers, Canada’s “Heroic Age” Reconsidered (Kingston and Montreal: McGill-Queen’s University Press, 1987).

Trigger, Bruce, editor, Handbook of North American Indians, Vol. 15 (The Smithsonian Institution: Washington, D.C., 1978). This volume covers the Northeastern United States and Canada, from the east coast to and including the Great Lakes. Similar volumes are available for other regions.

Wissler, Clark, Costumes of the Plains Indians (New York: The Trustees, 1915). Wissler was an anthropologist and curator for the American Museum of Natural History.

Wissler, Clark, Structural Basis to the decoration of costumes among the Plains Indians (New York: The Trustees, 1916).

Olivier Zunz, editor, and Arthur Goldhammer, translator, Alexis de Tocqueville and Gustave de Beaumont in America Their Friendship and Their Travels (Virginia: University of Virginia Press, 2010).
